Fierce Innovation Awards: Healthcare Edition announces winners, Falcon Physician receives top recognition

Falcon recognized for leadership in EHR Innovation

DENVER, Dec. 22, 2015 /PRNewswire-USNewswire/ -- Falcon Physician has been awarded a top award at the Fierce Innovation Awards: Healthcare Edition, a unique awards program from the publishers of FierceHealthIT, FierceHealthcare, and FierceMobileHealthcare. Falcon received top honors in the EHR category.

The Fierce Innovation Awards recognize pioneering technologies and solutions that will catapult healthcare delivery into exciting new realms. Winners were selected by a distinguished panel of CIOs from renowned U.S. hospitals and healthcare systems, including Allina Health, Rush University Medical Center, Aspirus, and JFK Health System, among others. A complete list of judges can be found at https://www.fierceinnovationawards.com/healthit/2015#our_judges.

All applications were evaluated based on the following criteria: care efficiency, competitive advantage, financial impact/value, market need, patient experience/satisfaction, quality of care and patient outcomes, and overall fierceness and innovation. Finalists were selected based on calculation of the judges' scores in each area.

Falcon is being recognized for its innovative, industry-leading product, the Falcon® Mobile App. This mobile rounding tool allows nephrologists to manage patient records and complete dialysis rounds using their mobile device, which enables them to engage more easily with patients.

"Falcon has worked incredibly hard to differentiate ourselves in the technology, healthcare and EHR industries, and this award means our vision is materializing," says Falcon VP Matt Brill. "We are proud to call the Mobile App Fierce."
