DaVita Selects its Next Chief Accounting Officer

John Winstel to assume the role of CAO no later than March 3, 2020

DENVER, Oct. 29, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- DaVita Inc. (NYSE: DVA) today announced the selection of its next Chief Accounting Officer, John Winstel.

Winstel has joined DaVita as group vice president of Accounting, reporting to CFO Joel Ackerman, and will succeed Jim Hilger as CAO. Hilger intends to hand over the role when he steps down early next year, no later than March 3, 2020.

"We are grateful to Jim for his longstanding service to DaVita and the contributions he has made over 14 years," said Ackerman. "We have benefited from his integrity and his leadership of our accounting team. I am excited that John is joining to help lead DaVita forward in the years ahead. His experience in both accounting and finance, his extensive international experience and his passion for developing his team will serve him well in his new role."

Winstel brings more than 25 years of accounting and finance experience to DaVita. Most recently, he served as vice president and corporate controller for Cooper Tire & Rubber Company. Prior to that, he held senior roles with Proctor & Gamble, General Cable and various companies within the food industry. Winstel began his career with Deloitte & Touche LLP, where he led audit engagements for multinational, public companies.

Winstel earned a bachelor's degree in accounting and finance from the University of Cincinnati and an MBA from Duke University.
